Rena Nigam - CEO & Founder of Meytier

BIOGRAPHY

Rena Nigam is the Founder & CEO for Meytier, a smart hiring and talent intelligence platform for companies to hire in an equitable manner. She is a serial entrepreneur and a specialist in building and scaling firms that focus on the re-imagination of businesses through technology.

Through 2018, Rena was President and Board Member at Incedo, a fast-growing firm focused on Data Analytics and Emerging Technologies. In 2011, Rena co-founded a Digital Transformation focused firm called aSpark, which was sold to LiquidHub (now, Capgemini).

She started her career at Standard Chartered Bank and then spent over a decade as one of the early employees at Mphasis, a Financial Services focused technology services firm. In her last role at Mphasis, she was on the company's Executive team as the global head of their largest unit, Banking & Capital Markets.

Rena is a regular contributor to leading industry publications on AI and bias, equitable hiring, and women in technology and leadership. She is a frequent speaker at academic and industry conferences on this topic.

A computer engineering graduate from the University of Bombay with an MBA from the Indian Institute of Management (IIM), Calcutta, Rena is based in New York City.